

Bill Howe, PE, CEM Program Manager, EPRI Bill Howe is the Program Manager for Power Quality Research (Program 1) in the Power Delivery and Utilization Sector. Mr. Howe's primary areas of expertise are: power quality research, information and knowledge development and deployment, industrial and commercial power quality analysis, industrial and commercial electric and control system design and optimization, demand response, electric energy efficiency, and market research.

Mr. Bill Howe manages the entire PQ Research portfolio for EPRI. His key responsibilities are strategic planning, project management, information products, and multi-client studies covering topics related to quality, reliability, and efficiency of energy delivery. Mr. Howe also manages EPRI's flagship power quality information offering, PQ Knowledge-Based Services, the premier international power quality information resource. Before joining EPRI, Mr. Howe worked nearly 20 years in management and senior engineering positions within a number of Fortune 500 companies and has experience in medium-voltage power quality product development, product testing, substation and distribution-system design and construction, motors and drive systems, and process automation. He is a registered professional engineer.