How much is the train from Madrid to Granada?

The train tickets from Madrid - Granada cost from 13 € if you buy them in advance, but they can be more expensive if you buy them on the same day of the trip. Prices can vary depending on the class, schedule and date of travel. An average on the AVE could be about 65 Euros.

Round-trip ticket

This offer is aimed at people travelling back and forth, maintaining the same stations of origin and destination within a maximum period of one calendar year, including the date of purchase of the ticket.

The discount will be 20% on the General/Base fare applied to each trip, being able to combine services AVE, Long Distance, Avant and Half Distance Conventional, in all classes and squares.

The discount will not be cumulative to others, except the derivative of being holder of a large Family and in those others that specifically indicate it in their conditions.

The return journey must be completed at the time of purchase of the outward ticket, but may be changed later.

Loss of train

In case of loss of the trains AVE and Long Distance, for reasons not imputable to Renfe, and for those customers who show up with a maximum limit of 30 minutes (to count from the planned time of departure of the train), at the station of origin of the journey, you will be offered the possibility to travel on the next train with free places in the conditions that Renfe determines. No charge to the customer as long as you travel in identical or lower class than the original ticket.
